

HOLIDAYS BY THE SEA

By Larissa Ayvazyan
(Lara Ayvazyan)

We will go with you to "Aivazovsky", *
The sea air is healing to inhale.
We will change the habits of Moscow
For peace and grace.
In the edge where the coastal waves
They wash the olive garden,
The sky in the stars is black and bottomless,
Alley of pomegranate is in blossom.
Forget some past sorrows
What prevented, melt like smoke...
We created the Crimean world for ourselves,
And we are in a hurry to strengthen the alliance!
When the evening wave submissively
Suddenly swim up to your tired feet,
Emerald Black Sea
Will bring a gift of consent to us!

IT'S NO TIME TO REST

What to hold, where to get strength?
How to survive the crisis of the genre?

I would stop time to live a little more.
I don't exist just in the world
As an specimen, or part of individual.
In my soul I am a big teenager,
Probably everyone will be surprised!
Concerts, dances, evenings,
Receptions, meetings and buffets...
Forget the good advice:
No, I don't have time to rest!

INSPIRATION

I hide happiness in silence,
I will hide grief from all.
I need peace and will,
And only in the creative activity
Is my success.
I do not exist, but I live:
Fly anywhere.
And I don't call anyone,
Like a bird, I'm free.
That melancholy may suddenly come,
Sadness, sorrow, resentment...
Only the Muse breaks the vicious circle
I envy myself!
