

THE BALL IS ROUND LIKE A GLOBE AND OTHER POEMS

BY Larissa Ayvazyan

The ball is round like a globe,

And the dove of peace is over the country

Circling while the game.

The news rush through the cities:

All countries flags will be visiting us,

And it's time to shake the world!

Does he wake up from delusions,

Conflicts, war, prejudice?

Well, how long can you wait?

We live on the same planet.

We and our children cannot fly away,

We must survive all together!

THE SOUL FLEW AWAY, FLEW AWAY...

The soul flew away, flew away...

Suffering, she wanted

To break away from the sinful earth,

Quietly it broke up with the body at night

We could not hold it!

No one is disturbing, in its daily fuss

It was just nice and sublime, no doubt!

It will be eerie white cloud

Together with our grief immense,

When the time comes, it will soar to the highest spheres.

Well, why are we so carefree?

We do not store what is given by nature.

Why we forget about the fleeting days

And are losing our health and years?

What will remain after leaving?

Whether a memory, or maybe deeds...

But the music, without a doubt,

Will be sounded easily and free.

RELASTED SOULS

Everything is frozen: earth, trees,

Crystal ice rings.

Let the sun shine and not warm,

Nothing will cool love!

On the branch outside of window

Are sitting birds warming each other.

Frost and blizzard do not interfere

Couple in love to be together!

Sit chilled in bad weather

A pair of bullfinches...

Their inseparability is bird happiness,

And faithfulness - like the swans!

No, the call of nature is not broken,

And they sing everywhere in unison,

Merging related souls

What are together in happiness and in trouble!
