

BEG FOR YOUR CALMNESS AND UNIVERSAL PEACE!

By Dr. Chandra Hariharan Iyer

Oh, mother nature! Please accept my apology, I pray for your serenity! Remember, you are the ocean of love!

I am terrified by your reckoning actions, you started for all put down souls on earth, though without option,

I am worried by the results of your retaliations; I earnestly apologize for pushing you from serene to ruthless,

Yes, now, learned the need for unconditional forgiveness, only after making you disturbed and revengeful,

Oh, mother! Beg for your calmness and universal peace! Oh, Ocean of love, Heal self fast to heal the earth!

Yes, i confess, for all those meaningless tears, regret to question your law, 'what goes around comes around',

I was wrong, I Admit, I couldn't let go the hurts, Insults, harassments and Humiliations by expertly powerful!

Compromising to the situation at the cost of aggression on you couldn't stop weeping asking, 'will you stop?'

Now, learned the need for the unconditional forgiveness and realize the pressure of my futile tears, on you!

Oh, mother! Beg for your calmness and universal peace! Oh, Ocean of love, Heal self fast to heal the earth!

Yes, i was foolish to express irritation closing the eyes to the basic truth of 'Purity is the diamond of the soul'

Yes, then i could converse secretly only to you, about the bullying and insults by the exceptionally powerful!

While taking in the hurts, and all the unfair suppression, i couldn't stop asking rudely 'Do you really exist?', now, learned the need for unconditional forgiveness and really grasp the strain of my pointless sob, on you!

Oh, mother! Beg for your calmness and universal peace! Oh, Ocean of love, Heal self fast to heal the earth!

Yes, i was silly, to question genuineness of the law of 'Injustice anywhere is a threat to justice everywhere',

Challenged you curtly on my helplessness, forgetting my blessed nature of joy, purity, peace and 'bliss'!

Though couldn't stay away from you, showered you with frustrations, questioning even your grace,

Now, i realize the need for unconditional forgiveness and the harm of my suppressed hurts on you!

Oh, mother! Beg for your calmness and universal peace! Oh, Ocean of love, Heal self fast to heal the earth!

Bio:

Dr.Chandra Hariharan Iyer is a renowned researcher, an inspirational speaker, book author and a skilled counsellor. She is having to her glory Ph.D (Management), M.Phil (Management), M.com, MBA(Finance), DBM, PGDBM, PGDFM, PG Diploma in Guidance and counselling, M.Sc (Psychology) and MA (Philosophy and Religion).

Dr.Chandra Iyer, being a researcher in Ethics, management, Indian philosophy, and spirituality, has a great inclination towards youngster's life skills and its practical applications. She was condensed with many youngsters in her corporate finance career of more than 24 years and in career as management faculty spanning more than 12 years. Passionate about spirituality and teaching, she is of the authentic vision that helping co-living beings is the ultimate spiritual practice.

She had published empirical and theoretical research in a variety of scholarly journals and presented in many conferences. She has participated in many national and international seminars, contributes to research a lot and was invited for Key note address in many seminars in and around Mumbai. She also participates as member of Editorial board, Advisory Panel, Judgement Panel etc for many research seminars. She has authored 50 Text books with ISBN and 3 Reference books so far.

Currently she is working as an Assistant Professor in Department of Management studies, B.K. Birla College of Arts, Science and Commerce (Autonomous), Kalyan, Maharashtra.

EPISSTEME