

LIFE IN LOCKDOWN

By Karishma Rakesh Punjabi

Oh! So the Universe is joining their hands together,
This Unforeseen Lockdown has bloomed in such a hot weather
And now that people are digitally socializing more,
It's kind of Instructing how to spend their life staying Indoor
'I've got bunch of tasks' were the excuses made Before,
Now they've friends in this Pandemic life that made them rush to Liquor Store
By eating Chips at night and sleeping in day,
The whole routine thing is changed like its Sunday
Moisturising and taking care of skin is now considered as priority,
Showing their hidden talents without being in Anonymity
Cancellation of exams is not the only pleasure,
Relaxation from travelling for hours makes them work better!
Switching to Healthy Lifestyle from the Junk food stuff,
The fear of getting Infected has now become less tough.
Wearing a mask and Social Distancing is becoming a regular thing,
Hopes of ending the deadly virus are alive through worshipping.
Now It's 53rd day of lockdown and we've the desire of partying out,
While some are stuck in midway to their homes, spending their life in a doubt

Bio

Karishma Rakesh Punjabi, pursuing her Master in Commerce and she is a passionate writer. She is a great motivator for her friends and is well known for her miraculous smile.