

LONELY WAY AND OTHER POEMS

By Dr. Ram Sharma

We get only the footsteps only for few years we walk together for few steps and years we fall , break and say for your own loneliness walk alone and sway the way is lonely and straight here none is to walk with us , we only thought how straight and clear the way is there is no eye to see , no lap to rest we have to walk , walk and walk to appear in the test footprints of few footsteps somewhere we get but there is no one ----no one

THE WORLD

The world is the mirror you see your own reflection in it it has neither joy nor sadness it becomes the same as we see it you are the creator of your own world if you look the darkness all around this is your mistake look at the world with the new insight do not complain or accuse others life can be a celebration if we know the art of creation

LIGHT SCATTERS

However bad the time may be , it passes the ray of hope shines any moment the vision remains all glitters escape the weight of mind lightens those who live in the darkness of their egos shine brightly with the sun of everlasting light and goes

UNIVERSAL INFINITENESS

This is the new dawn of all encompassing darkness of mortality this is the first glimpse of universal truth to recognise the universal infiniteness this is the first attraction of the heart and i have nothing but universal truth feeling i am the small lamp of that great Sun of energy i am the first ray of that universal infiniteness

THANK TO INDIA

Thank to thee, India thank to thee, Indian culture this is the country of avatars , deities and Gods this is the country of Mantras , Vedas , Purans and myths this is the country of Temples and rivers of enlightenment this is the country of religions , sects and societies this is the country of great warriors , sacred priests , lovable daughters and adorable mothers here is the joy of cultures , festivals and rituals here is the delicacy of serene Himalya here is the hide and seek of clouds and music of flowing streams here is the light of Deepawali here are the colours of Holi here is the India epitomia of the world
