

REVELATION CORONATION AND OTHER POEMS

By Scott Thomas Outlar

There is a fire burning in the sky today, born not of the sun which has been chased away behind clouds, but of a resurrected primal power burgeoning with the divine seed of love from the heart of a pulsing cosmic source.
A promise is revealed in the heavens to spread far and wide across the earth through the signals of ignited flames that roar with an intensity so great not even Prometheus would dare to reach for the torch, and Apollo is blinded by such a light which shines more brightly than solar gods are able to withstand.

As above, so below, just as has been foretold...

Rumblings from the effects of Ragnarok are reflected in the shifting plates screaming beneath a once calm sea that ruptures at the seams as Poseidon tears loose from his chains, grabs his trident, and announces with pride that the days of old are being made new again.

Crystal cities emerge forth from the wild waves with the force of a thousand volcanic eruptions that spit Atlantis back to the surface.
Golden roads are paved in an instant, and diamond coated pearly gates open to allow a vision of momentous importance.
There, seated on the throne of the Queen, rests the most beautiful angel the world has ever seen as the trumpets blare to introduce all mere mortals to Irsa.

UNIVERSAL EQUATION

When someone explains to me that they don't believe in God because they haven't yet discovered a scientific proof

I simply smile
and think:

That's cool... you can continue to run around like a chicken with its head chopped off searching for coal upon the earth

I'll be here basking in the light while singing with these diamonds in my heart
