In this information age where change is the only constant, there is a dire need to have a platform for exchanging thoughts and sharing ideas among life-long learners and scholars. So, we are extremely pleased to place before you volume 2, issue 3 of our online journal 'Episteme', ISSN 2278-8794, an inter-disciplinary, multi-disciplinary and multi-cultural dialogue: a collection of diversified ideas.

The current issue with articles from nine countries including India, having total 35 contributions in the form of 11 articles (10 from India and one from Australia), 14 poems (seven from India, two from USA, one from Canada, Attock, Romania, Ireland and Iran each), seven prose pieces (three from India, two from Australia, one from Germany and Canada each), one interview and one book review from India.

The main highlight of the present issue is India in translation segment that includes poems translated by a bi-lingual poet. The combination of the segments and the contributors is a symbol of diversified expertise being piled up in one bouquet with flowers of information and fragrance of knowledge.

We take this opportunity to personally thank all those who have open heartedly extended their cooperation by accepting our invitation to be on the revamped board of advisors and senior editors along with their valued contributions

Looking forward for your persevering qualitative contributions and warm responses, I wish all the readers a very Happy and Prosperous New Year.
